Who created the The Silly Squad?

The Silly Squad are a crowd of animals, designed by Laura Ellen Anderson. They live in a house filled with fun and laughter and they want everyone to get reading this summer. Like all readers they have different tastes:

	Bamboozle, the panda, reads pictures, poems or rhymes.
	Lily, the frog, reads jokes to anyone who will listen!
	Merry, the giraffe, spends holidays reading exciting adventure stories. Snook, the penguin, loves football and likes books with facts and info.

The trouble is...Brian, the Pony and his mate, Norman, the pigeon, have been sent to spy on the Silly Squad.

Families can find out how to sign up and how to join in.

Laura talks about the Silly Squad and helps readers design their own silly animal in this Reading Agency YouTube video. Why not ask pupils to design their own Silly Squad member to outwit Brian and Norman!
